CONTRACTORS GO TO DANVILLE

Lampton & Burke, of Louisville, who recently completed their contract for resurfacing portions of Main and Pleasant streets, in Paris, are moving their equipment to Danville. They have a contract for resurfacing the streets in Danville, a work which will require several months to complete.

BIG OIL TANKS ARRIVE

The two big oil tanks purchased some time ago by Bourbon county arrived Saturday. A force of workmen is making preparations for installing the tanks at the old C. S. Brent & Bro. warehouse, opposite the Louisville and Nashville passenger station, at Tenth street.

RECOVERS STOLEN GUN.

Patrolman George W. Judy recovered a revolver stolen some days ago from John W. Marr, of near Paris, and returned it to the owner. The revolver had, it was stated, been taken by a young white boy and sold for a small sum to a colored boy, who reported the deal to Patrolman Judy. Mr. Marr declined to prosecute, being satisfied with securing possession of his property.

OUR BOYS IN THE DAYS' NEWS.

The "Notes of The Traveling Men" department in Sunday's Lexington Herald has the following concerning well-known Paris men: "Clay Sutherland, of Paris, representing Swift & Company, was out on his regular trip this week and reports a good business."

"Dan Jordan, popular merchant of Paris, has sold out his business and is going to take a needed rest. Mr. Jordan was very popular with his trade and with the traveling men. We invite him to come to Lexington and go into business."

"W. A. Welsh, prominent merchant of Centerville, surprised the traveling men by getting married a few days ago. This is the best step that Mr. Welsh has ever taken, and the boys all extend their hearty congratulations, and wish him and his bride much happiness."

HANDSOME COMPLIMENT TO BOURBON COUNTY MAN

After a service of eight years as the head of the State Fish and Game Commission since its establishment by the Legislature, J. Quincy Ward, one of the few remaining Democratic officials at Frankfort, has gone the way of the others and retired to his fine Bluegrass farm in Harrison county, which he was tempted to leave for official duties. He was the moving spirit in the establishment of the commission for the protection of fish and game in Kentucky, and regarded an authority in these matters. Friends of Mr. Ward, who is one of the best-known Democrats in the State, are already suggesting him for a place on the next State ticket. — Louisville Times.

AUGUST COURT DAY.

The spell of midsummer apathy seemed to mark the business operations of August Court day in this city yesterday. There was a large attendance, but little business going on. A few consignments of horses, mules and cattle were disposed of at fair prices. Merchants had a fairly good trade, and some success with their collections, which have now been reduced to practically a thirty-days' basis. The vicinity of the court house was enlivened by the usual oratorical efforts of itinerant religious spellbinders, who held forth for the edification of the rural cousins and their families. Otherwise their proceedings did not edify. Farmers were in high glee over the rains that visited this section Sunday, doing a vast amount of good to the tobacco, corn and grass, which had been suffering from lack of moisture. Several of the leading tobacco growers of the county stated as their belief that the "rust" and "wildfire" prevalent among tobacco plants in other sections, had not gained a very great headway in this county.

DELANDO AMUSES AND ENTERTAINS AT GRAND.

Delando, mystic, seer, and crystal gazer, began a week's engagement at the Grand Opera House, in this city, last night. He was greeted at the initial performance with a large crowd, who were both amused and mystified. Delando answers questions with astonishing accuracy and had everyone spellbound. He is said to be the only man in the world who foretold the end of the great world-war and the abdication of the Kaiser two years ago.

He possesses unusual faculties for character reading, is an expert phrenologist, and says that it is comparatively easy for him to read peoples' minds and character. He has been employed several times by some of the largest concerns in the country for selecting persons for filling positions of trust, on account of his marvelous ability for reading their characters. Delando will be an added attraction at the Grand all this week.
